COMMITTEE OF 21 MEETS TOMORROW

Plans for Drafting Charter, Publicity and a Secretary On Salary to Be Offered to the Members for Approval

Proposals of Berkeley and Albany for Election for Forming Utility District Will Be Told in Full Detail

An outline for organization is ready for submission to the Committee of Twenty-one on proposed city consolidation at the meeting in the city hall tomorrow evening, according to I. H. Spiro, chairman of the sub-committee in charge. It is understood that the committee will formulate a new charter, the appointment of a publicity department, and the creation of the position of salaried secretary.

A question which must be considered by the committee, according to Walter D. Cole, chairman, is the action of Albany in setting a rate for a public utility district election and of Berkeley's action toward the same end.

"These activities must be considered seriously," Cole said today, "and doubtless will be given considerable attention."

UNDER SCRUTINY

There will be no report from the sub-committee on law until an exhaustive analysis of the question has been made. The members met today at the office of Robert D. Fitzgerald, chairman, and outlined their course of action. When they report it will be with a purpose of answering all questions of the consolidation proposal.

What effect the formation of public utility districts within the territory of which a city and county are situated is to be proposed is one of the questions that will be met.

Pending the petition to the Railroad Commission to grant a rehearing in the matter of increased ferry rates, Commissioner Charles D. Heywood's plans for the formation of a public utility district for the entire Eastbay community are being held in abeyance by the Berkeley council. They call for the presentation of the matter to the councils of the various cities.

action is obtained, for the calling of an election.

WOULD PURCHASE TERMINAL LINES

Heywood would have the new district's first action the purchase of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railroad Company.

Denouncing the present campaign for consolidation of an Alameda county and city government, former Mayor Heywood today declared that such a move would not meet favor. He said it would develop into a county division instead of county union.

Growing out of the charges and protest of the Berkeley Council has been called for Friday, at which time the plans for a general election to determine the popular sentiment on the question. The proposal considered is one to join all of the unincorporated areas in Alameda county adjoining Berkeley to the north with Berkeley and Albany toward a water supply.

Eastbay Cities Act to Prevent Ferry Increase

Five Municipalities File Petition for Suspension of Order

In an effort to prevent the Southern Pacific and San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Company from putting their increased ferry schedule into effect tomorrow, city attorneys of five Eastbay municipalities today filed a petition to the State Railroad Commission that it "immediately suspend" its recent order granting the raise until such time as the commission may grant a rehearing.

The cities taking part in the action are Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont and Albany.

CITY COUNCILS ARE UNHEARD

City councils in Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda have given the city attorneys of those cities the power to apply to the State Supreme Court for a writ of review, in the event that the present petition is denied.

ARGUMENT ASSETS

New ferry rates to become effective tomorrow increase the single fare from 15 to 18 cents and set the price for a commutation book at $4.80, an increase of 80 cents.

The petition for a rehearing of the argument of the Eastbay communities is to be based on the contention that the commission declared the new rates without giving those affected an opportunity to be heard, and that such an action is in violation of the state public utilities act, according to Frank Cornish, city attorney of Berkeley.

AMBIGUOUS CLAIM

The position of Oakland and of the other cities in the action is set forth by Leon Gray, assistant city attorney.

"The Interstate Commerce Commission decision merely refers to ferry rates in an incidental and ambiguous manner," he said today, "and its interpretation of such ambiguous language that it can be claimed that the decision required or recommended the raise of the local ferry rates."

The commuter rightfully complains at the haste evidenced in this matter. If it had been demonstrated that the ferry systems of the Key Route and the Alameda County companies needed an increase of rates, and if it had been demonstrated that the service which was being rendered to the commuter warranted a higher rate than he is now paying, he would have willingly and voluntarily met the increase. But he does not object to an arbitrary increase made after his request for a full and impartial hearing has been denied. He pleads with suspicion, the propaganda of the utilities as to their needs and necessity, and as to the deterioration of service which would follow the submission of facts and figures before the Railroad Commission, which may be scrutinized by his daily newspaper.

DECLARED UNCONSIDERED

"The commuter was not represented, nor was he heard by the Interstate Commerce Commission. His decision did not consider his value of the service rendered to him. The State Railroad Commission, by refusing to hold a hearing on both ends of the Interstate Commerce Commission decision and denying the commuter his constitutional right to be heard, in effect, approves the filing of a petition in a business district here today. It establishes a bad precedent, which, if followed and allowed to go unchecked, will lead to more dire results than the present rate increase."

In a public statement the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railroad has summarized the street car strike, the result of making both ends meet under impossible conditions.

MAIL PLANES WERE MADE IN GERMANY

Government Participation in Recent Flight of All-Metal Machines Denied, Although Sponsored By P. O. Dep't

Local Expert Declares That Aerial Route Was Mapped Out by 'Planes Made Abroad and Assembled in U. S.'

Disclosure of the fact that the three all-metal mailplanes which recently brought mail from New York to Oakland and which were used by the postoffice department and the United States air service in mapping out a regular air schedule were designed and manufactured in Germany, was made today in this city.

While it was announced in New York when the planes took off for the Pacific Coast that they were "sponsored by the postoffice department and the United States aerial mail service," the secretary of the United States postoffice department, said today that the planes were not made in Germany.

At his office today his secretary said that the flight was in no way a government enterprise, but was inaugurated and carried on by private enterprise to show the feasibility of metal planes. We had nothing to do with it.

According to Colonel Jordan's office the German planes were designed in Germany and made in this country.

Airplane experts of Oakland, and the number includes some of the most famous in the country, declared there is no question of the fact that the German planes were made in Germany. Those who investigated the mechanism of the mail planes and who declared them to have been built abroad include officials and pilots at Durant Field, motor company experts of national reputation and others.

PLANE MADE IN GERMANY, SAYS EXPERT

"It may be said without fear of contradiction and with absolute certainty that the aerial mail route was mapped out by the German planes," said a local airplane expert today.

"The planes were designed and made in Germany and assembled in this country. Every airplane expert in the country who has seen the German machines knows this to be a fact."

The machines were equipped in Central Park New York, and took off for Oakland on July 23. They have been in the air since that time. At the time of their return it was announced that the experiment was under the auspices of the postoffice department and the government air service.

Captain Eddie Eickenacker, leading ace of the American flyers in France, was one of the passengers in plane No. 1.

Approximately 1000 pieces of mail were carried by the planes. Among them were letters from Otto Praeger, a postmaster general, to the mayors of Cheyenne, Salt Lake and San Francisco.

The three planes arrived in Oakland on August 23.

Conrad left San Francisco last night for Salt Lake. He planned to stop at Reno on the way, and it is not known just when he will return.

Judge Declines To Enjoin Colby On Suffrage Act

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Justice Siddons, of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, refused to issue a rule enjoining Secretary of State Colby from proclaiming the nineteenth amendment, providing suffrage for women. The rule was requested by Charles Fairchild, president of the American Constitutional League.

The petition for a rule enjoining the proclamation dealt at length with the proceedings by which ratification was accomplished in Tennessee.

Justice Siddons said he had no authority to review the act of a state legislature, and could not stay the hand of the secretary of state in performing a function prescribed by the law. The court declined to issue the rule unless some definite authorities had been submitted to him which would warrant the court to go into the matter. Justice Siddons agreed to wait all day to allow the attorney to submit authorities.

The certificate of ratification of the suffrage amendment by Tennessee is not expected to reach the state department until tonight, it was said.

Secretary Colby has made arrangements for signing the proclamation of the amendment as soon as the certificate of ratification is received.

Unless Russ Soviet Softens Terms for Poles, Nations Are to Put Military and Naval Plans Into Action

Answer to Peace Overtures at Minsk Amounts to Flat Rejection of Fourteen of the Fifteen Proposals Made

By WEBB MILLER. UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT. LONDON, Aug. 25.—Whether most of Europe again will be involved in war was expected today to be decided within forty-eight hours.

Russia has until Friday evening to reply to the Anglo-Italian note demanding modification of her peace terms to Poland. Premier Lloyd George has informed the British cabinet through Arthur Balfour, lord president of the council, that unless a satisfactory reply is forthcoming by Friday, the British government will change its policy toward Russia. Committed to the same action as Great Britain is Italy, France and Belgium. In the event of a resumption of hostilities on a more serious scale the Germans may become party involved, since the sentiment of the German populations bordering on Poland is frankly pro-Russian. Officials of East Prussia are reported to have asked for volunteers to aid the Reds, and according to some dispatches, that as many as 10,000 men have been taken to join the thousands of Russians who fled into East Prussia to escape capture.

Poland's Answer Virtually Rejection

LONDON, Aug. 25.—Poland's answer to the peace terms presented by the Russian soviet delegation, a virtual rejection, it was said today, says the Manchester Guardian. Minsk correspondent in a wireless despatch filed Monday.

"The Russian government demands," he continues, "that relative demobilization, as accepted, and that only on condition that Russia will take a similar demobilization at the same time Poland disbands her forces."

The boundary line between Poland and Russia, as laid down by the League of Nations, is declared unacceptable because it amounts to a third partition of Poland.

Demands for distribution of lands to Polish victims of war and the return of cattle and horses stolen by Polish landowners from White Ruthenia and Lithuania are reflected as interfering with the League of Nations and a violation of Polish sovereignty.

MODERATES WANT OFFER BY BRITAIN

Resolutions suggesting a truce between opposing Irish factions and declaring it possible for the British government to obtain peace in Ireland by an "immediate and binding offer of full national self-government to the people of Ireland" were adopted late today at the conference of Irish moderates which convened here this morning. The meeting was marked by fiery oratory, but there was no disorder.

The only speech from the Ulstermen was made by the Earl of Shaftesbury, who did much toward quelling the conference before the noon recess. The afternoon session was opened by Sir Horace Plunkett, chairman of the Dublin convention, who stated he had no definite plan for dominion home rule, but sought to organize a movement to bring together extremists on both sides. He paid tribute to the Sinn Fein for having done much for government in Ireland, but said that they must eventually accept a compromise.

The clubs are the result of the particular work of John W. Phillips, who conceived the idea and put it into effect. The clubs are located in every precinct in the county.

"Wallace is the one man who can ask for the support necessary to carry the November election," declared Jones in a statement sent out to the voters yesterday. He is a southerner and the southern vote is necessary for a Republican victory in November. The dry vote is absolutely necessary to insure the election of a Republican at the November polls. Wallace's record speaks for him as a Progressive Republican.

Support is being pledged the Wallace candidacy from the country districts of Hayward, Livermore, Centerville and Alameda. Wallace stands on the protective tariff for California is winning him hosts of supporters.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Former United States Senator Frank P. Flint, in a statement to Egerton Shero, mayor of the city, declared that the nomination of Wallace is already an established fact. I am convinced that Wallace will win in final against Phelan by 150,000 majority which is the normal Republican voting majority of the state. For every vote Phelan takes from Wallace in the north, Wallace will take two from Phelan in the south. Wallace is the only candidate in either party who has helped him an assured block of voting strength.

Wallace has outlined his stand regarding ex-service men in a wire sent today to the American Legion meeting at San Diego. The wire reads as follows: "This nation owes the ex-service men more than it can ever repay. I am in favor of the principle and purpose of the bonus measure. The service men in their advocacy of a fair bonus are not seeking to commercialize the spirit of patriotism. They do not purpose to have passed a measure that would hinder the stabilization of national credit. I believe that the bonus is only fair to the ex-service men, and that those who safely enjoyed gain at home shall share that gain with the imperilled fighters abroad and with those who are in the ranks waiting and ready to fight."

WALLACE CLUBS NOW NUMBER 171 ABOUT EASTBAY

One hundred and seventy-two "Vote for Wallace Clubs" are now at work in the Eastbay district, according to a statement issued last night from headquarters by Roscoe A. Jones, attorney.

The clubs are the result of the particular work of John W. Phillips, who conceived the idea and put it into effect. The clubs are located in every precinct in the county.

"Wallace is the one man who can ask for the support necessary to carry the November election," declared Jones in a statement sent out to the voters yesterday. He is a southerner and the southern vote is necessary for a Republican victory in November. The dry vote is absolutely necessary to insure the election of a Republican at the November polls. Wallace's record speaks for him as a Progressive Republican.

Support is being pledged the Wallace candidacy from the country districts of Hayward, Livermore, Centerville and Alameda. Wallace stands on the protective tariff for California is winning him hosts of supporters.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—Former United States Senator Frank P. Flint, in a statement to Egerton Shero, mayor of the city, declared that the nomination of Wallace is already an established fact. I am convinced that Wallace will win in final against Phelan by 150,000 majority which is the normal Republican voting majority of the state. For every vote Phelan takes from Wallace in the north, Wallace will take two from Phelan in the south. Wallace is the only candidate in either party who has helped him an assured block of voting strength.

Wallace has outlined his stand regarding ex-service men in a wire sent today to the American Legion meeting at San Diego. The wire reads as follows: "This nation owes the ex-service men more than it can ever repay. I am in favor of the principle and purpose of the bonus measure. The service men in their advocacy of a fair bonus are not seeking to commercialize the spirit of patriotism. They do not purpose to have passed a measure that would hinder the stabilization of national credit. I believe that the bonus is only fair to the ex-service men, and that those who safely enjoyed gain at home shall share that gain with the imperilled fighters abroad and with those who are in the ranks waiting and ready to fight."

POLES OPPOSE RED PURSUIT OVER BORDER

THORNE, West Prussia, Aug. 23 (by the Associated Press).—Older officers in the Polish army expressed the opinion here today that in the event of a decisive victory over Soviet Russia along the entire front it would be inadvisable to pursue the Bolsheviks beyond the bounds of ethnographic Poland. One declared, however, that war between Poland and Soviet Russia would be "inevitable" until an arbitration fixed Poland's boundaries, which he believed, both the Russians and Poles would respect. He suggested that there should be American, British and French members of such a board.

"This is a war of women," said a young Polish officer today. They are driving the men to fight, and are doing all the farm work while the men are away. They have even engaged to go to the front in the future. There is no longer any question of victory, but are uncertain only as to the policy as to the invasion of Russia. Our women may help to settle this, too."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The navy department will contest more than 75 per cent of the claims filed by oil companies and individuals on lands in the huge reserves of the navy in Southern California. It was learned authoritatively today.

Today is the last of the six months' limit set for filing claims under the conditions of the oil leasing bill passed by congress dated February 25, 1920.

Of the more than 100 claims which the navy department estimates have been filed at the department of the interior, not more than 25 or 30 will be granted leases under the terms of the bill. The rest will be fought on the ground of fraud. The fraud charge is of varying degrees, according to department officials, but all cases are sufficient to deprive the claimants of any rights to produce from the reserves. Some of the claims are filed, department officials say, where it is known that the wells are not producing, some are alleged frauds against the original locations and others are alleged to have been accomplished through the use of dummy drillers. Some of the claims will be contested on the ground the claimants had reasonable knowledge of fraud in the original claims.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The actual construction of buildings for the new $3,000,000 plant of Procter & Gamble, food products manufacturer at Richmond, is expected to be under way by next spring, it is indicated by correspondence between the Point Richmond Land and Canal company, and the company. Most of the seventy-five-acre site of the new plant was sold to the food products company by the Point Richmond Land and Canal company. A survey for the filling and leveling of the property has just been completed, and preparation of the ground for the factory will consume several months, it is said.

The company contemplates the construction of a long pier and wharf to receive the cargoes from its ships, and large warehouses to store the raw materials arriving from the Orient, it is said.

CLUBROOM FINISHED

The Giant Powder company has just completed a handsome clubroom, its employees on its property four miles of this city. The building and equipment cost $25,000 and is one of the cosiest and most modern of any of the clubrooms with those of any of the big plants in this section.

FAKE ADVERTISING SCORED BY AYRES

Serious activity against "crooked advertisers" by the Better Business Bureau, Oakland, was advocated by Rollin C. Ayres, president of the San Francisco Ad Club before the Oakland Advertising Club at the Hotel Oakland yesterday.

Ayres scored "fake and fraudulent advertising which can only live by preying upon the credulity of the public to the detriment of the honest advertiser and business."

He took a fling at deceptive "trade names."

FALSE NAMES SCORED.
"Does honest merchandising have any soundings name of 'Hudson seal'?" Why call ordinary dogskin, Manx, 'churian wolf'?" The old familiar sheepskin has the highbrow name of 'Mouton fur' and a Thibet lambkin parades under the name of 'Iceland'.

Silk hose is all cotton. Silk tulle is made of wood. Parisian ivory is a composition. American quinine is a composition.

Some merchants claim that these names are no longer deceptive because so thoroughly understood by the shopping public. Then why continue the practice?

"Then there are 'seconds' and defective goods sold as first class. They are going to abate this evil by compelling all such merchandise to be so marked. The advertiser who uses well known standard makes as 'bait' is being watched."

MERCHANTS URGED TO ACT.
The Advertising Association has pointed out to publishers that it is not fair to their readers to permit the use of their columns by any swindling advertiser. The presence of the fake advertisement in the same column as the publisher has given a card of introduction to the swindler that he may present it to the reader.

"Practically all publishers have lost a helping hand. This crisis, but there is still much to be done. A constant vigil must be kept. The virtues of advertising must be regularly patrolled."

If the men engaged in legitimate business do not band together in this campaign of education and moral suasion, if they do not first put their house in order as regards their advertising, they will not use every means to eliminate the crooks and fakers that fleece the people, congress may in the near future enact a law that will be more severe than many would desire."

Housewives and concerns should boycott firms which misrepresent goods and if purchases do not live up to the advertisement, they should be returned, Ayres maintained.

EASY TO FIND? SURE, LIVES AT FOOT OF HILL

Shed tears, ye Chamber of Commerce, and weep ye census takers! Constrain thyself, ye industry builders and hold thy breath, ye really associations. For here comes a woman from Bayonne, New Jersey, who desires to locate one Joe Stapleton, son of Mrs. Stapleton, who lives "at the foot of the hill" in Oakland, California. With simple faith, Mrs. S. Morgan sends from the Atlantic seaboard to the West the following S. O. S.:

"Dear Sir: If there is any person by the name of Mrs. Stapleton, who has a son in the U. S. Army by the name of Joe Stapleton or any one who knows where he lives, would they kindly communicate with me? He is supposed to live in Oakland, California."

MRS. S. MORGAN,
122 W. 20th St., Bayonne, N. J.
P. S. I have heard he lives at the foot of the hill in Oakland, California."

BURGLAR FLEES AFTER FIRING ON POLICEMAN

Seeing a burglar crawling from the window of a house at 1429 Avenue of the Stars, a police officer on his back early this morning, Patrolman E. W. Banford engaged in a revolver duel with the robber, who finally escaped.

When Banford saw the man he ordered him to halt. Instead of complying the man fled over fences and up alleys with the patrolman in close pursuit, firing with his revolver as he ran. The burglar stumbled, fell, and while prostrate opened fire on the officer, forcing him to seek cover. He then continued his flight and escaped with his loot.

The Advertising Association has pointed out to publishers that it is not fair to their readers to permit the use of their columns by any swindling advertiser. The presence of the fake advertisement in the same column as the publisher has given a card of introduction to the swindler that he may present it to the reader.

"No rough edges in my morning cup of coffee—not for me! I start my day right."

"No siree! I have smooth rich-tasting coffee every morning. I like it. It makes my whole breakfast taste better. And it sets me up for my day's work."

"Costs more? Yes, per pound but just about the same per cup as the coffee we used to drink."

"And how we do enjoy our breakfast nowadays!"

There are two or three such coffees, all in vacuum-sealed tins.

EASTBAY SOCIETY NEWS

Reception Is Planned by University Set

In honor of Mrs. David Prescott Barrows, wife of President Barrows of the University of California, and Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, who has just returned from the East, a large reception is to be given Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock by the members of the advisory board and cabinet of the University Young Women's Christian Association. It is to be a big social event and hundreds will attend from San Francisco and about the bay, as members of the student body of the university. Invitations will be sent out this week.

Mrs. G. A. Mattern of the advisory board is acting chairman and Miss Medora Irwin, president of the Students' Association, will preside as general chairman of the reception.

Chairmen of the reception committee are Mrs. Warren Olney Jr. and Miss Kathryn Krast. Serving with them will be Mrs. R. A. Carr, Mrs. R. A. Berry, Miss Dorothy Wright and superintending the decoration of the spacious rooms will be Miss Margaret Grimes and Miss Jean Wright.

A wedding to take place in the far north—Vancouver, B. C.—is of special import to Eastbay society, that of Commander William A. Glassford, U. S. N., of this city, and Miss Florence Leighton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Francis Leighton of the northern city, the ceremony to be performed in St. Paul's church this evening and witnessed by several hundred guests as the bride's family is prominent in social circles there.

Many invitations to the affair reached Eastbay friends, where the young widow was numbered among the most popular men in the service set.

To meet Lieutenant Martin Wade, U. S. N., and Mrs. Wade, invitations have been sent out for Sunday afternoon for tea when Mr. and Mrs. John Holland Mallett of Berkeley will entertain. About two hundred guests will call and a coterie of intimate friends of the hostess and matron will be in the receiving party.

Miss Harriet Campbell, daughter of Mrs. W. R. L. Campbell, was hostess Monday afternoon at her home in Claremont in honor of Mrs. Wade.

Miss Eleanor Campbell has just returned from a stay at Tahoe Tavern. SCHOOL SET ARE ENTERTAINED.

Cards will be sent out September 1 by Miss Geraldine Gannon for a tea which she will give in honor of a group of girls who are going east to school. They are the Misses Helen Hardy, Hattie Pomeroy, Angela Seales and Lucy Anderson.

The Misses Hardy and Gannon will enter Mt. Vernon Seminary and Miss Anderson will enter Holton Armes. One hundred and fifty invitations will be sent out.

Monday, September 13, is the date set for the wedding of Miss Norma Dearborn and Leo Murasky, the service to be read by Rev. G. W. Dearborn in East Fifteenth Street Catholic church. Father Richard Curtiss to officiate. Mrs. Irene Dearborn Guthrie is to be her sister's matron of honor.

Murasky is a graduate of St. Mary's College and of Hastings Law School. In honor of Mrs. Merrill Dow, who is visiting here from the south, Mrs. Dudley Dexter was hostess at tea this afternoon at her attractive home in the hill district. Intimate friends of the young matron assembled in the dining room.

BRIDE IS HONOR GUEST. Forty guests called at the home of Mrs. Harold Rutledge in Northbrae this afternoon, when the hostess entertained in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Roy Long, a bride of a few months. Mrs. Charles Oliver Bradley, Mrs. Frederick Samuels and Mrs. M. E. F. Faye, in Berkeley, many friends will call on that day.

SPECIAL MEETING OF BABY HOSPITAL. A special Baby Hospital meeting has been called for tomorrow afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, to discuss plans for the annual benefit. Miss Lila A. Stewart will address the meeting, telling of "The Merry Wives of 1920," which she is to present for the Baby Hospital during the annual bazaar, September 30, October 1 and 2.

LUNCHEON AT ATHLETIC CLUB. A smart luncheon at the Woman's Athletic Club Monday afternoon was that given by Miss Ellita Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edson Adams, who leaves soon for the Atlantic coast. Among the guests were the Misses Mary Julia Crocker, Elizabeth Watt, Margaret Buckbee, Mary Emma Flood and Catherine Bentley.

The marriage of Miss Martha Nelson, daughter of Mrs. Grace Nelson of 1712 Sixty-third street, Berkeley, and Peter Dodge of Liverpool, England, took place at 8:30 o'clock last evening, at the bride's home. Rev. Norman W. Pennington of the Park Congregational church of Berkeley officiated before a company of thirty of the closest friends and relatives of the couple. Carnations, asters and ferns were used in the decoration of the living rooms, carrying out a decorative scheme of pink and white. A Hawaiian orchestra played later in the evening for dancing. A brother and sister of the bride were attendants—Raymond Nelson and Mrs. E. N. Thornton.

After a honeymoon in Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will return to Berkeley to take up their residence.

Mrs. John Keating entertained a number of friends at luncheon on Friday at the Claremont Country Club, complimenting Mrs. Uthman of New York, who is spending two months here as the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John McEwen of Vernon Heights.

Among those asked to meet Mrs. Uthman were Mrs. Blake of San Francisco, Mrs. Walter De Martini, Mrs. John McEwen, Mrs. Charles Shield and Mrs. Arthur Owen.

Woman Shoots Own Children and Seif

MADERA, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Laura L. Brown blindfolded her two children, one a girl aged 10 and the other a boy aged 8, lined them up against a wall in a room in her home and emptied the contents of a shotgun into the bodies of both of them, killing the little girl instantly and seriously wounding the boy, according to police reports. She turned the gun on herself immediately afterward, inflicting wounds that necessitated the amputation of one arm. The police say she and the boy will recover. The police announced that she had been taking treatments here for several weeks for nervous disorders.

Thugs Halt Voters; Several Persons Slain

MANAGUA, Aug. 25.—Several persons were killed and there was bloodshed in many towns in Nicaragua during the registration of voters on August 21 and 22. Thousands are said to have been deprived of their registration privileges because thugs surrounded the registration booths.

MRS. MARION RODOLPH McCANDLESS, glimpsed in the gardens of her home. On Saturday Mrs. McCandless is to plight her troth to Louis Chirardelli, the wedding to be a quiet affair at the bride's home with only members of the Rodolph and Chirardelli families as guests. Miss Helen Rodolph will be her sister's only attendant.—Steckel portrait Clarence Crowell assisted in receiving.

Tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Roscoe Downs will be entertained at tea by Mrs. Frank C. Watson, at her home in Van Buren street. Mrs. Downs has been visiting from her home in the south and was the inspiration for many interesting parties during her sojourn on this side of the bay.

Before her return to Wellesley, Miss Isabel Faye will entertain Saturday afternoon at tea for her college friends, at the home of her mother, Mrs. H. F. Faye, in Berkeley. Many friends will call on that day.

remember that there are diamonds of many colors—brown, yellow, white, blue and blue-white—and that the finest of them all are the blue-white stones. Our stock includes only blue-white diamonds and we sell them at prices ranging between $50 and $1000.

LIONS TOLD ROLE PLAYED BY BANKS

"Only the man who has a knowledge of the detail work in a banking institution knows to what a remarkable extent a bank has become a service station for its patrons, and in a way for the general public," Kenneth A. Mullican of the Anglo-London and Paris National Bank told members of the Oakland Den of Lions at a luncheon at Hotel Oakland today. Mullican outlined in brief manner the duties which have been taken over by banks, the object of which is to make easier the transaction of business by customers. He pointed out that banks are leaders in distributing public information, that they are a clearing house for ideas and a center for advice. Mrs. W. F. Heald entertained the club by reciting a number of stories and Mrs. L. B. Cramer sang. William Donald and George Munro, new members, introduced themselves effectively by appearing in a vaudeville number of their own creation.

Gasoline Shipment Goes to New Zealand

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—An announcement that 40,000 gallons of gasoline are to be shipped from this port to New Zealand has revived the stories that shipment of oil out of this country is to be started on a large scale. According to the Associated Oil Company, shippers of the cargo, the contract was made more than a year ago and will have little effect on the situation in California. New Zealand and Australia do not produce gasoline and depend largely on the United States for their supply.

Bureau of the Oakland
Advertising Club

The Bureau has been publishing announcements in the daily press with respect to its activities in behalf of reliable and trustworthy advertising and business methods.

We are glad to be numbered among the firms which are supporting this effort.

We believe the policy to be a distinct service both to the public and to the business houses.

It is one thing for an advertiser to claim that his advertisements speak the truth, and another to have the assurance of it vouched for through the aid of an independent source.

It is good to have means of exposing the dishonest advertiser as well as a checking up of unintentional inaccuracies of the honest one.

HARDING PLEADS FOR MORE SAVING IN GOVERNMENT

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

MARION, O., Aug. 25.—On the issue of economy in government alone the Republicans deserve to be entrusted with the affairs of the nation for the next four years, it was declared here this afternoon by Senator Warren G. Harding. He spoke to a delegation of Wyandot county Republicans who motored to Marion for a neighborly front porch address. "I want to acclaim the day," said the senator, "when we may think in millions once more." He deplored the high finance which has run government.

Senator Harding also took a subtle dig at the league of nations.

"The European states," he said, "have made their covenants, but war continues. We have entered into no covenant and we have actual peace."

To the women in the crowd, the candidate said:

"Whatever difference there may have been over the granting of the right of suffrage to women, there can be no question as to their fitness and their capacity, their patriotism and their earnestness."

"We are weary burdened to the breaking point with public duties exacted for all manner of purposes and the annual interest charge on our public debt is about equal to our normal revenue in pre-war days. "We need to reduce our cost of government as one means toward reducing the cost of living.

REPUBLICAN ECONOMY.

"Rolling back the Republican Congress during a year of its existence cut great expenditures two and three-fourths billions of dollars from the departmental estimates prepared by the Democratic administration.

"When the Republican Congress elected in 1918 came into control I did so under a pledge to reduce the cost of government and stop extravagance and waste. That pledge has been splendidly kept."

Senator Harding charged that Democrats in Congress had at tempted to discredit the Republicans but that this had been frustrated and supply bills passed at a saving of a billion dollars. No "pork barrel appropriations were made under Republican supervision, he declared Blume for the present high cost of government he laid at Democratic doors in not making adequate preparations to bear the cost of war. The Republican party has justified the confidence the country reposed in it when on October, 1918, the president made his most partisan appeal for a Democratic Congress to do his bidding.

ALAMEDA, Aug. 25.—A rally to obtain workers for the $5000 Boy Scout campaign to be held here soon under direction of the Alameda rotary club will take place Friday evening at Native Sons' Hall, Park street and Central avenue. D. A. Eberly, chairman of the drive, will preside. Clinton Kelley, scout executive, has sent out invitations to prominent Alamedans, and many plan to attend.

OAKLAND WILL GREET DELEGATES TO TRAFFIC RALLY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—Actual demonstration to the delegates to the National Traffic Officers' convention in session in the Civic Auditorium here of safety devices was given at the Safety First Exposition held on the main floor of the auditorium this afternoon.

While the officers were engaged in studying safety devices the ladies attending the convention with their husbands were guests of the California Auditorium Trade Association on a motor trip through the Peninsula.

Among the committees meeting this morning were the arrests and penalties, auto and truck transportation, electric railway, general laws, headlights, municipalities, organization, rules of the road, steam railways and the safety first and safety appliance committees.

Those who spoke at the session to-

PAGEANT HONORS PILGRIMS UPON SITE OF CAMP

BOSTON, Aug. 25.—The first centenary Pilgrim pageant of the year was presented today at North Truro, Mass., down along Cape Cod, in a natural amphitheater overlooking a fresh water pond where the Pilgrim Fathers camped. One hundred and sixty townfolk impersonated Pilgrims, Indians and sailors of the period. Features of the pageant included the looting of a deserted Indian wigwam by the Pilgrims, a duel between two of the Mayflower company, fought over a maid servant, the kidnapping of a child by the savages and an exciting encounter between the Indians and Pilgrims. Between the episodes a group of twenty-five watercolor girls danced.

Day were Chester N. Weaver, vice-president of California of the National Automobile Dealers' Association; Lieutenant John Martin of the Chicago department; Dr. Clayton Sharp, illuminating engineer of New York; E. W. Braun, Elgin association; Fred S. Wilson, Trenton, N. J.; and W. F. French of the California Industrial commission.

Tomorrow afternoon the traffic officers will be welcomed to Oakland by a large committee of officials taken on a trip through the city and surrounding country, and in the evening will be honor guests at a big ball in the auditorium.

TWO-WAY AUTO LIGHT ENDORSED

A new invention is now in use successfully on the Lexington car that is helping to solve the lighting problem. They are called "two way" headlights. The driver can control the amount of light that these "two way" headlights provide. The control is a simple lever on the dash. When the light is desired far ahead on the road, the lenses are held in their straight position. When a car approaches, by simply turning a lever, the light can be reflected on the road.

"The state motor vehicle department has approved the device and it is used as equipment on Lexington cars," says C. J. Hulin, manager of the Lexington Motor Company.

"The operation of the lights is simple. You turn a lever and the bright rays of the light are turned down in front of your car. When the road is free of advancing cars, you throw on the lever and get light many hundreds of feet ahead.

"This device is on exhibit at the safety display at the National Traffic Officers' convention in San Francisco.

A carillon kite will never make a good hawk.

Cars Sought for Tour of City by Traffic Officers

Automobile dealers who have not promised aid and every motor car owner who can spare the time is urged by the Oakland entertainment committee to have automobiles at Seventh and Broadway at 1 p. m. tomorrow to receive the delegates of the National Traffic Officers' Association, who are to be shown about the Eastbay cities.

The local reception is under the direction of Joseph C. Cain, managing director of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, and Robert Marland, secretary of the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association, and the hope of these men is to have at least fifty cars on hand for Thursday's tour.

Italian Socialists Would Back Soviet

ROME, Aug. 25.—A manifesto declaring that the Italian Socialist party favors recognition of Soviet Russia and announcing a great demonstration August 29 to protest against the "reactionary attitude of France, the instability of England and the duplicity of Italy," is published by the newspaper Avanti of this city.

MOTOR BUREAU IS URGED FOR CITY

Establishment of a motor vehicle registration bureau in Oakland, the formation of an adjustment committee to prevent lawsuits among merchants and plans for a big meeting of manufacturers and shippers at the Merchants' Exchange September 28 to discuss freight rates, were measures considered at the meeting last night of the Oakland Merchants' Exchange.

At the present time there are only three bureaus in the state where automobiles can be registered, at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento. To save the trip to San Francisco for registration, the exchange urges a bureau here.

George Sheldon of the Downtown Association in reporting an interview with secretary-treasurer Copeland of the Santa Fe railways declared that the Santa Fe officials was astounded at the growth of Oakland and that he planned to immediately enlarge the traffic department and industrial division of the road here.

President I. H. Spiro announced that hundreds of manufacturers and shippers had been invited to attend the exchange meeting scheduled for September 28 to discuss transportation rates.

A resolution endorsing the organization of the legal adjustment committee to serve as a board of arbitration on the disputes of merchants, carried with it the proviso that a special committee would be appointed for each specific case.

Theatrical Colony Will Hold Picnic

The Theatrical Mutual Association, according to announcement today by the Marks, president of the local organization, will hold its annual outing at Neptune Beach on Thursday, September 16. Plans are being made for the attendance of actors and amusement folk of the bay district. The plans include a program of special events.

Railroad Earnings Show Big Increase

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Both freight and passenger revenues of the railroads increased last March as compared with the same month of 1919. Figures made public today by the Interstate Commerce Commission showed freight revenues of $323,611,139 last March, as against $284,607,102 the same month the year before, and passenger revenues of $32,166,153, compared with $38,277,130 in March, 1919.

Coal Miner Makes $264 in Two Weeks

FROSTBURG, Md., Aug. 25.—Patrick Flynn, a coal miner, recently received $264 for two weeks' pay in the mine of the Highland coal company, in the Somerset field. It is said this record has never been equaled in that territory. Flynn averages nine hours a day in the pit.

If I had avenged every wrong, I had not worn my shirt so long.

2-Way Head Lamps

Stop Blinding Glare

THE perils of driving your car at night are ended. Lenses are not necessary! Dangerous dimming is eliminated! The 2-Way Head Lamps give you the use of all your light.

A beam of clear light is put directly in front of your car by the 2-Way Head Lamps. This light is spread well on both sides. Still these lamps keep the beams of light well below the range of advancing drivers.

Any device or contrivance that mis-directs, wastes, or prevents sufficient light is a risky compromise. It does not solve the problem.

You get all the clear, safe light you want in the right place at the proper time with the 2-Way Head Lamps. They are not only safer for you, but they also help the advancing driver to see better.

You merely touch a button (vacuum controlled), and the beams of light are directed down in front of your car. This completely lights the road for you without blinding others. Then when the road is free from other cars—you throw the beams far ahead.

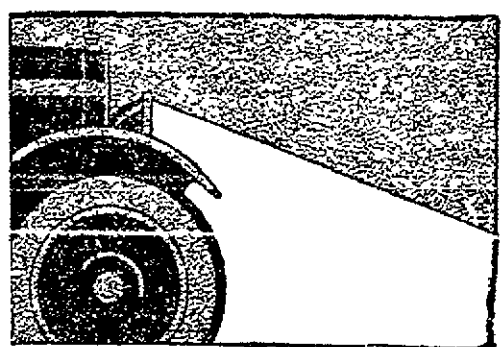

This remarkable improvement is only one of the valuable features on Lexington cars. Let us demonstrate this feature to you.

EVERYBODY KNOWS
VALVE-IN-HEAD MEANS BUICK

For the first time since the Buick light-six was placed on the market, immediate deliveries are possible. And, of course, this condition is temporary only, as the Buick demand will quickly exhaust the small available supply.

Hundreds of Buick purchasers have waited this year for months before receiving their cars. They were content, for they knew the Buick was well worth the wait. But by almost superhuman efforts, the Howard Automobile Company has gradually overcome the shipping handicaps, so that there will be a lucky few to receive Buicks without the delay.

California registration figures again emphasize the Buick popularity. In July 722 new Buicks were registered in this State! This total was exceeded only by the two lowest priced cars on the market!

Buick registrations more than trebled those of cars selling at anywhere near the Buick price.

Just another proof of the Buick leadership.

HEARING HELD ON 'BUS-LINE PERMIT

The contest became so warm that it was impossible to end the hearing and a further hearing was set for September 15. J. T. Belshaw, president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, was present particularly to urge the necessity of that portion of the route between Antioch and Stockton. Brenwood, Byron and other points were represented by citizens urging the establishment of the line.

ANTIOCH, Aug. 25.—A hearing on the application of the West Coast Motor Transport company to the railroad commission for a permit to operate an auto stage line from Oakland to Stockton and Oakland to Fresno via the Antioch and you highway, Martinez, Antioch and the Borden highway, was held yesterday at Antioch by Examiner Westover. The application was opposed by three railroads. Several Martinez business men and business men from other cities appeared at the hearing and urged that the application be granted. O. K. Klatt, official of the company, today disclosed the firm's plans contingent on the application being granted. It is proposed to institute immediately a two-hour service from each of the three terminals which in early spring will be increased to one-hour service. Plans call for construction of a stage depot and stores at the junction of the Borden highway with the Antioch highway where the three stages would meet. The Fresno stage would touch Byron, Newman and other towns now without stage service. Klatt announced that the company has made application to railroad commission to discontinue temporarily its Oakland-Livermore stage pending completion of highways in the region.

TEN PASSENGERS ARE INJURED IN CRASH OF CARS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.—One person was seriously injured and ten suffered minor cuts and bruises this morning when a Clay street cable car became unmanageable on a steep hill and crashed into an electric car at Clay and Kearny streets. Both cars were packed with passengers. The majority of them being men. Roy Rutt, 1740 Pacific avenue, an iron worker, was the most seriously injured, suffering a wrenched back and possible internal injuries. Several others were hurt but were not flying glass but Rutt was the only one to be taken to a hospital for treatment. According to spectators, Rutt suffered his injuries in a heroic attempt to save a companion whom he thrust to a place of safety when the car collided. Both vehicles were badly damaged. According to stories told the authorities, the cable car in the hands of Motorman A. Cabori, was bound toward the ferry building and at Clay and Grant avenue, ran out of control, gathering momentum as it proceeded down the hill. The Kearny street car, which was crossing the intersection of Kearny and Clay streets, received the full impact. Seeing that the crash was inevitable many of the passengers on both cars jumped to safety.

'STATE NEWS'

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 25.—A large meteor fell at a point on the Taylor ranch, about a mile up the Rincon road from this city, leaving a hole in the earth about the size of a wash tub.

The celestial stranger dropped about midnight, leaving a blazing trail which illuminated the sky for several minutes after the meteor had plowed its way into the ground.

BURGALAR SUSPECTS HELD
FRESNO, Aug. 25.—Jesus Felix, R. C. Garcia and Leonard Garcia were arraigned here on a charge of burglarizing stores here, at Clovis, Kingsburg and Maricopa and were held in bonds of $5000 for trial in Superior Court. At the time of the arrest of the trio six others were arrested but have since been released.

PRISONER HANGS SELF
CHICO, Aug. 25.—Chung Lee, a Chinese who recently spread terror among his countrymen in Chico following his escape through a skylight from a building where he was being detained until he could be examined as to his sanity, ended his life in his cell in the city jail. Lee was obsessed with the hallucination that enemies were trying to kill him. He was captured by police after being in hiding for several days at Sandy Gulch, north of the city. Lee had been in the city jail since August 11.

ERROR CAUSES GAS DEARTH
CHICO, Aug. 25.—Because a Southern Pacific switching crew mistook a filled tank car for an empty one, Chico motorists went without 8000 gallons of gasoline the last two days and a temporary gas shortage was the result. The gasoline was consigned to the local branch of the Standard Oil Company and the car was on a siding in the Southern Pacific yards. Orders were received by the switching force to return an empty tank car to Roseville. They carried out the orders, as they supposed, but the wrong car had been sent to Roseville, and the empty car had been left on the siding.

CHRY PLANS TEN WELLS
FRESNO, Aug. 25.—The plan which the city of Fresno had to secure auxiliary supply of water to be used in such cases as happened recently when the local power plant burned, to obtain a supply of water from the reservoir which the Madera Irrigation district is to build on the San Joaquin river, has been abandoned. Instead, the city will drill ten additional wells. These will be equipped so that the fire department can pump direct from the wells instead of from the water mains, and this will provide an adequate water system when an emergency arises.

FREIGHT RAISES LUMBER
REDDING, Aug. 25.—Local lumber dealers had that the freight rates will make all lumber coming from Portland cost $2 more a thousand in Redding.

RICE CROP HEAVY
CHICO, Aug. 25.—An increase of approximately 500,000 sacks over last year's production is predicted for the 1920 rice crop in the Sacramento valley by H. C. Jacobson, extensive rice operator on the Parrott tract near here. The increased production is due to greater acreage.

Harvesting the crop on this side of the river, according to Jacobson, will start between September 25 and October 1. Seventy-five per cent of the valley rice crop this year is of the early varieties, whereas the reverse was true two years ago. Jacobson estimates the entire crop this year at 4,000,000 sacks. Rice growers of the district are not worried over the possibility of early rains, but are greatly concerned over the serious power shortage, which is greatly hindering pumping operations.

PRINCE OF WALES
DUE TO PAY $10
TO UNCLE SAM

BY UNITED PRESS
HONOLULU, Aug. 25.—Unless red tape can quickly be severed, the Prince of Wales when he arrives here August 30, will have to pay $10 into Uncle Sam's pocket-book. Under a recent transport ruling, British subjects are forced to pay that sum upon landing. Several Britishers passing from Australia in Vancouver have been forced to stay on board while in the harbor. It is desired, however, that the ruling be changed before his arrival. The prince's visit will be unofficial and without ceremony.

The Letters of Tessie and Joe

Joe is a traveling salesman. Tessie is his loving wife. Follow their letters in THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

DEAR JOE:
It sure was a hot one last night, wasn't it, Joe? Or maybe it wasn't so warm where you are, but it was here. I wouldn't of wanted to be a thermometer last night, Joe. I got partly cooled off by sitting out on the front steps and whenever anybody I knew went by I'd ask them if it was warm enough for them. It didn't seem to relieve their sufferings any, but after the tenth one I asked I felt real refreshed. How do you explain that, Joe?

Mrs. Fink dropped in this afternoon and said she hoped I wouldn't be insulted if she spoke her thoughts out, but it was remarkable how much the baby was getting to look like you. Can you imagine that, Joe? A tactless way of putting it, to say the least, wasn't it? But I soon put her in her place. Mrs. Fink, I says, I would be only too happy if I thought the baby took after Joe, I says, and the fact that he don't resemble him the slightest bit but is really a handsome child don't alter the fact in the least, I says. Nothing slow about me, is there, Joe?

I think I'll have baby's picture taken tomorrow. I think your idea that babies ought to be photographed with clothes on does you credit, Joe, and I think I'll compromise by letting him at least wear his little socks. Besides, the socks he's wearing now was given to him by his Aunt Sophie, and you know she's his only rich relation, and when she gets a picture and sees that her socks are the only thing he has on, she'll be real disappointed. I'll draw a little arrow, not too conspicuous of course, to call her attention to the socks. Please excuse had writing as this desk shakes on account of the leg you always said you'd fix and never did, not that I'm knocking or nothing.

Ever thine,
Tomorrow Joe gives his views on the raise in railroad rates, government ownership and Russia.

The "big event" in this church this week is, of course, the reception to be tendered to Bishop Adna D. Leonard, world president of the Epworth League, by the various Young People's societies of Alameda county, at the First M. E. church, Oakland next Friday evening. An extensive program has been arranged and overflowing meetings are expected. A committee of twenty-five are in charge of the affair.

FIRST CHRISTIAN.
As a beginning for a busy fall program in the First Christian church the Organized Women will hold a picnic at Live Oak park, Berkeley, tomorrow. The Reason for the Big Sale at The CURTAIN STORE

For three years the market has been unsettled. Orders placed with factories were subject to delay and cancellation. Goods were hard to secure.

The Curtain Store was determined to keep up its stocks and bought whenever and wherever the right merchandise could be secured—frequently duplicating orders to insure shipment and placing future orders with many large firms.

The sudden change in market conditions by which goods ordered a year ago, with those placed for future deliveries, have been received has increased our stocks to over one-third more than we can accommodate.

The merchandise is here—fresh, new goods, of the latest styles, designs and colorings, and must be moved quickly.

For this reason we offer OUR ENTIRE STOCK OF CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES, Trimmings, Lamps and Shades at

One-Quarter Less Than the Regular Retail Price

The early buyers have the advantage of our full lines of selection.

We make regular deliveries, but no sale goods will be charged or sent on approval.

REPULSE FOREIGN INTERFERENCE.

There are a few fundamental facts about the history of American shipping and maritime commerce that are thoroughly known, but in view of the organized unfriendly efforts on the part of the British and Japanese governments and of the shipping interests of these two nations against the administration of the new Jones merchant marine law, it is well that the American people keep them fresh in their thoughts.

Just at the point where the policy and details for the administration of the law are being formulated marks another crisis in the American merchant marine. No mistakes should be made. Under no circumstances should the people be weaned away from loyal support of the American law and the shipping it is designed to protect. A propaganda to break down the confidence of the people of this country in the efficacy and wisdom of the new law is now being actively conducted by alien interests. According to reports the campaign is particularly vigorous in the State of Washington where Senator Jones, author of the law, is a candidate for re-election.

For over fifty years following the civil war the United States had no merchant marine. The overseas trade was carried in foreign ships and foreign shipping and marine insurance concerns took toll of the American people to the extent of approximately a billion dollars annually for this service. This is the first important fact.

When the country entered the world war it became absolutely necessary to construct a great fleet of cargo carriers to take the American army to Europe and to keep it supplied with the necessities of war. To this purpose about $5,000,000,000 was spent. This vast sum was obtained from the American people—through Liberty Loans and direct taxation. It represents a per capita contribution of about $50 for every man, woman and child of the country. The government fleet became the nucleus and major portion of the present American merchant marine of about 18,000,000 gross tons. This is the second important fact.

Finding themselves, at the end of the war, possessed of the merchant marine, the American people concluded they did not want to scrap it. They believed it would be good business policy to utilize it to carry American overseas trade. Although of an astounding disposition to profligacy, the people did not decide to let this so large an investment in new ships go to waste. Congress, reflecting accurately the public sentiment, enacted a law to preserve the new American merchant marine for the benefit of the American people. That law may have a few weak spots in it, but these are insignificant when compared with the salient provisions designed to foster American foreign trade in American ships. This is the third important fact.

The fourth fact is that there must be no hesitancy in realizing the aims of the merchant marine law because alien shipping interests and foreign governments complain against it. This act of Congress merely proposes to endow American shipping with a few of the more important advantages which have been enjoyed for centuries by British shipping interests and by the Japanese merchant marine since its inception. The law falls far short of bestowing all the advantages enjoyed by the merchant marines of other countries. This should permit us to dismiss with perfect equanimity the selfish complaints of the foreigners.

ENGLAND'S INCONSISTENCY.

Premier Lloyd George of England, while in Switzerland this week, sent a despatch to the Bolshevik regime at Moscow protesting against the demand of the Lenin Trotsky gang that the Polish government permit the Polish workers to arm themselves. His objection was based on the principle that acquiescence in the demand would recognize the claim of the Bolsheviks to interfere in the internal affairs and the government of another people. He expressed himself as shocked at the thought that the Bolsheviks might submit a similar demand in regard to British workers.

Mr. Lloyd George was entirely right in his rejection of the Bolshevik proposal, which was a manifestation of the criminal plot of the Bolshevik dictators to promote revolution in all civilized countries. He was right as judged both by the morality of the issue and by the practical exigencies of the day.

But Mr. Lloyd George's government protests the right of the United States to enact a law permitting domestic railroads to give a preferential freight rate to commodities destined for the export trade and carried in American ships. Waiving aside, as a thing to be expected, the insincerity and oblique vision of the British statesmen in protesting an American privilege for American shipping of precisely the same character as the British shipping, it is strange that Mr. Lloyd George adopts the same idea he rejects when advanced by the Russian Bolsheviks and employs it in attempting to delay the administration of an American domestic law. Britishers are interfering in our domestic affairs when they protest the application of this or any other provision of the merchant marine act.

When England decided to have a merchant marine, the English Parliament adopted laws and regulations much more drastic than the Jones law. In the statutory law of Great Britain will be found an act providing that:

"No merchandise, either of Asia, Africa or America shall be imported into England, Ireland or any English colony except within the ships built within the kingdom or its colonies, owned by British subjects, and navigated by English masters and English crews—unless brought directly from the place of its growth or the place of its manufacture in Europe."

Another act of Parliament forbids any man not a subject of the realm to establish himself as a merchant or factor in the colonies and still another provided that certain articles produced in the colonies were "reserved to be handled exclusively by English merchants in England."

Under this policy of extravagant favoritism, with the British government devoid of scruple to strangle every competing enterprise, the British merchant marine grew to cover the seven seas with a larger tonnage than that flying any other flag. America now proposes to utilize her merchant marine, built to aid Great Britain in the fight against the Central Powers, to carry America's sea-borne commerce. But Britain is grieved at the thought. She cannot understand why the American people should not be content to continue their dependence upon British shipping.

Now is the time for the people of this country to wake up to a sense of the importance of the new merchant marine. They should take pride in its success, they should energetically repulse every alien effort to injure the prospects of success. The merchant marine is something more than a business; it is national economic defense, a guarantee of the future prosperity of the American producer, whether he be a capitalist or a laborer.

PROPERLY BARRED.

President Barrows of the University of California has greatly encouraged the hope that the plane of morality and simple decency at the university will be raised during his administration by his order that two students, a young woman and a man, who indulged in a so-called "free love" union shall not be considered eligible for registration as students. This couple, while attending the university, established themselves in a cottage in Berkeley and there lived together until the respectable parents of the young woman insisted that the convention of a marriage ceremony be observed.

When their association, unapproved by the law and the clergy, became known they put on a brazen front and tried to explain that they thought the institution of marriage a relic of the barbaric ages, that children should belong to the State, and declared their adherence to these and other reversions to a pre-civilized condition which the Russian Bolsheviks preach and practice. But stripped of all the silly twaddle and stupid pretensions of the principals, this affair of the two university students was nothing more nor less than an unlawful liaison of a man and woman in a law-abiding community. Why the authorities were unmindful of the duty imposed by the statute prohibiting adultery is something the authorities may explain. It was just a plain erotic scandal, which no word spinning or appeal to the sanction of ignorant Russian Communism can render tolerable to American standards of decency and morals.

Though the announcement of his decision is somewhat belated, President Barrows is absolutely right in barring these students from further attendance at the State university. To do otherwise would be to lend institutional endorsement to their offense. Certainly the time has not yet arrived for an American college, supported by public taxation, to include "free love" either in its curriculum or its academic practices, to shelter those who violate openly the penal code and who transgress the most vital precept of civilization's moral code.

Attorney General Palmer again announces his intention to conduct a nation-wide probe of profiteers and profiteering, with a view to reducing the cost of living. While we are confident there are many matters deserving the notice of the Attorney General they probably will prove as elusive as Mr. Palmer's promises. The public has ceased to hope that the Attorney General will make good.

The dupes of Pouzi should reflect that a dollar in the savings bank is worth more than forty-five per cent profit in the bush.

NOTES and COMMENT

"There is nothing here for me," says the Berkeley advocate of free love. "It is in Europe that I must look for art and life." This would appear to make it unanimous.

Zamorra, according to a Mexican despatch, is what is called a "perpetual" bandit. The temporary or spasmodic kind, one is to infer, occupies a place far removed from his social plane.

With perpetual bandits lurking about in the case Mexico may lay claim to being the discoverer of perpetual motion.

One may read in the headlines that "Russ Envoys Sail Home in Hulls." But, no doubt, is Bolshevik for school.

Along the same line it may be noted that the Bolshevik navy so far includes nothing but barbs.

With Tajianna closed up the only gamble a man takes across the border is with his life.

Now that Egypt is to be made independent the Princess Della Patra should find some way of claiming the credit.

The advance in rates for Pullman tickets, it has leaked out, will have no effect on the energetic man in which the engineer will continue to stop and start his train at night.

Some women report that the days of chivalry have returned while others remember that the primaries are not far off and that it is the open season for politeness for men.

There are times when one might do well by overlooking a sense of the fitness of things. For instance, a political meeting at Martinez opened with the singing of "I'd Like to Fall Asleep in My Mommy's Arms."

Aside from the fact that one candidate called another a fungus-brained individual the senatorial campaign is without stirring incident.

The rush to buy railroad tickets before the price goes up exemplifies the fact that everyone wishes to make his money go as far as possible.

If credit were always given where due, according to one man's view, the country would be given the spectacle of the railroad employees shaking the hand and thanking old John W. Public for their recent raise.

Time is a great changer of enthusiasm. Before long according to the promise, we will be revealing in the moment of taking home five pounds of sugar for a dollar.

Two deer were secured by a party of Antioch hunters on in Humboldt county last week, one being shot by R. D. Hopkins and the other by Wilfred, son of George Kennerley. A BEAR TRAP

WHEN POLAND SAVED EUROPE

Poland, whose history is tragedy and whose people have been called "Children of the Sun," plays no new role when she seeks to stop the onslaughts of the Bolsheviks, for it was she who once stayed the march of the Turk across Europe.

This fact is recalled in a commemorative address by the National Geographic Society which sums up Poland's sad and eventful history as follows:

"In size she outranked nearly every nation of the continent. Russia alone of the European nations is larger than Poland was at her greatest. In population she stood at the forefront of Europe, only Russia and Germany had greater populations before the war than are to be found in the lands that once were Poland; for unpartitioned Poland had an area of 382,000 square miles, and the lands that once lay within her boundaries support a population of approximately 30,000,000.

"Poland was as large as the former German empire, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and Great Britain together; larger than Great Britain, Italy and Greece combined, larger than Austria-Hungary and Serbia in one. Within what were her boundaries there dwelt a present population larger than the combined populations of Great Britain and Belgium; larger than those of France, Belgium and Holland together, and matching that of the old Austria-Hungary.

"Poland was three times partitioned, and these partitions were readjusted between the partitioners by the Congress of Vienna in 1815. Where the original partitions had given Russia 181,000 square miles, Prussia 54,000 square miles and Austria 46,000 square miles, the reapportionment of the Vienna Congress gave Russia 220,000, Prussia 58,000 and Austria 35,000 square miles. Much of the land which Russia secured, and particularly Kiev, had been inhabited with Slavonic generations before.

"Poland, in the days of her greatest area, extended from a point within 50 miles of Berlin, on the west, to the meridian of the sea of Azov on the east; on the north it reached nearly to the Gulf of Finland, and on the south down to the Khanate of Crimea.

"What we now know as Russian Poland is that neck of territory stretching westward between the Prussians and Galicia. This territory has an area almost exactly equal to that of New York, yet, in spite of the fact that its extreme southern boundary lies north of the latitude of Winnipeg, its population is as great as those of New York and New Jersey combined.

"Russian Poland, in this limited sense, consists of a great plain, somewhat undulating, with an average elevation of about 400 feet, sloping upward toward the highlands of Galicia on the south and toward the swelling ground paralleling the Baltic on the north. It joins the lowlands of Western Germany with the great plain of Western Russia. Its rivers are slow and sluggish, with their mouths often but a few dozen feet below their sources and seldom more than a few hundred feet below. Their basins intricately interpenetrate one another and the frequent inundations of these basins have covered them with a very rich alluvial soil.

"Russian Poland usually has a winter somewhat similar to that of New England. There is an even cold, with not a great deal of snow, but often with razor-edged winds from the northward. The rivers of this region usually freeze over about the middle of December, and the Vistula is under ice for approximately 80 days during the average winter. "In the eighteenth century, when the city of Warsaw, next to Paris, was the most brilliant city in Europe, this flat plain was unusually rich in herds and geese flocks, though almost bare of manufactures."

"I'm shot!" announced a darkey as he rushed into his home on Eighteenth street and sank into a chair. Examination proved it to be true. There was a slight bump on his forehead.—Kansas City Star.

UNDERTAKERS TO ENCOURAGE UNIT IN EACH TOWN

As part of a campaign to develop the small city and county local associations affiliated with the California Funeral Directors' Association, the association in Sacramento here today changed its constitution making it one of the requirements for admission that the applicant be a member of his local.

On the basis of this change in constitution a number of undertakers applying for admission were barred until they would join their local association. Platt & Richmond

The funeral directors this morning heard addresses by L. E. Ross of the state board of health bureau of vital statistics and by Bessie Wood Gustason, secretary of the state board of embalmers.

There was no business session in the afternoon, the members going on an automobile ride throughout the Eastbay district. Lobbying for Yosemite valley as the next meeting place of the association was started today

MEETING MONDAY
WILL PASS UPON
SCHOOL BUILDING

E. O. HOPPE, celebrated English painter-photographer, is in the United States to compare five English noblewomen he has selected as the most beautiful in all England with American types of beauty to determine whether English women are the most beautiful in the world. Lady Diana Duff-Cooper, formerly Diana Manners (right), is one of the five he has selected. At the left is shown Mrs. Helen S. Woodruff, wife of Lewis B. Woodruff, New York physician. Mrs. Woodruff is an Alabama girl and her beauty is expected to aid in maintaining the standards which have made American women famous.—Photo of Mrs. Woodruff Copyright by Underwood & Underwood, New York.

School approval of plans of the school building construction department for the erection of a $750,000 school building on a portion of Independence Square, East Nineteenth and Broadway, will be considered at another meeting of the neighborhood and community interests of the East Oakland district Monday night. At that time the different factors interested in the building of the school will decide whether or not the building to be erected shall be a school building.

At a preliminary mass meeting held in the Garfield school last Monday night the plans for the new school were approved, together with a plan to use the park site for a new building and the combining of the two appropriations for the new high school and the high school. According to school department officials, the interests represented at the meeting were practical and the only issue remaining is that of the union of the two schools in the new building.

Under the present plans of the construction department the high school appropriation of $500,000 out of the $750,000 bond issue is to be used with the junior high school appropriation of $250,000, the total $750,000 being used to erect the proposed new edifice to house both schools. The building will be the best school house in the city.

The project for the use of the park site for the construction of the school building on the north side of the park, leaving the remainder of the park untouched, in addition to the main building, two new blocks adjoining the park are to be purchased for the erection of gymnasiums and for playgrounds. The property is bounded by East Nineteenth street, East Twentieth street, Eighteenth avenue and Twentieth avenue.

Approval of the scheme to use a portion of the park for the school building has already been voted by the board of park directors, and if the entire project is approved by a different neighborhood meeting next Monday night's mass meeting the city council will be asked to sanction the grant of the land.

Alameda Is Dark as Cable Blows Down

ALAMEDA, Aug. 25.—The city was in darkness for a quarter of an hour at 10 o'clock last night, when a power line, in front of the Alameda High school, was blown to the ground as the result of a high wind.

Electric current in all parts of town was immediately cut off. Wiremen were sent to repair the wire and to arrange for the restoration of power.

Theaters here were quickly emptied. The city council, in session at the city hall, was compelled to sit in darkness until the current was restored. The police department was called with telephone calls demanding to know the reason of the sudden darkness.

Provision is made for the transmission to physicians, pharmacists or hospitals, in certain instances, of certain chemicals and compositions, but special conditions of shipment are prescribed, copies of which are furnished by the post office department.

Lawyers Plead for Life of Slayer, 17

With numbers of Oakland attorneys taking a prominent part, new efforts are being made to prevent the hanging of seventeen-year-old Roy Wolff at San Quentin prison on September 17. The point raised is that the boy was not given a hearing before the juvenile court at Bakersfield.

Among the attorneys who have used this argument in an appeal for a writ of habeas corpus, directed to the Supreme Court, are: M. C. Chapman, president of the Oakland Bar Association, and W. W. Laidley of Oakland; C. F. Tramuto, San Francisco; I. L. Harris, Point Loma, and Jackson Mahon of Bakersfield. The petitioning attorneys contend that Wolff was turned over to the courts after a hearing that was not for the purpose of proving Wolff subject to the jurisdiction of the Criminal Court and that, therefore, his subsequent trial was illegal.

Free Love Roths Seeking Jobs
Wife Denies She Has Left Hubby
"Dad's" Pocketbook Is Locked

Intimations of Arnold Roth, that he is going to Europe to pursue art and education and that he is not to do so ordinary a thing as "chase a job" in Berkeley, has caused the disappearance from the horizon of Lillian McCarthy Roth, his wife of 10 years. Confident that Roth had accepted in good part a decision of her father's to supply no more money to the "love pact" cottage in Berkeley, Mrs. Roth, in Los Angeles, has pictured him to friends as looking for work and sacrificing musical ambitions for her and an ideal.

In spite of the fact that there are many people who are trying to influence us against each other," she said, "and in spite of the fact that I feel he has forfeited his musical career or at least delayed its fruition for several years for nothing save an ideal; yes, in spite of the sacrifice he has given me what amounts to his own bread and butter and is going out to earn what he can for both of us, I sincerely hope that he can find something that will permit him to continue his work at the university at the same time."

FREE LOVE BAN.

But Roth has been informed by President David P. Barrows of the University of California that he cannot enter his classes there until he has explained certain of his free love and other theories. "There is nothing for me at the university," he said, and so far has refused to visit the office of the president or to resume work in his classes. "It is in Europe that one may find art and education."

In Los Angeles Mrs. Roth explains the situation to friends in these words: "My husband and I have had no disagreement and I have not left him. Arnold has not found any one for whom he cares more than he does for me, and I am sure that I admire, love and respect him more than I do anyone else in this world."

"I came south hoping that my father and mother would see fit to help me financially for the next few months so as to leave Arnold free to continue his work at the university. My father was unwilling to co-operate and I do not think that under the circumstances my mother should have felt obliged to assume the responsibility."

"I do not blame either of them. They have a perfect right to do as they see fit, and if they do not love me enough to help me, that is their affair."

"Mr. Roth has proved and is proving his ideals and that he loves me. He knows that if he were to abandon me to my own resources tomorrow that I should not lift a finger against him, nor permit anyone else to do so. "He knows he is free as though there were no legal ties, to do what he likes; to choose any road."

WIFE SEEKS JOB.

"I am staying in the south at present. I hope to find work which I am capable of doing well, in order to lighten the burden. "I think this fully explains everything. We have been greatly misunderstood and misjudged, and I do not wish it to continue."

Roth and Miss McCarthy started Berkeley when they took up their abode in a hillside bungalow and announced that they did not believe in marriage. At length Roth expounded his philosophy to all who visited him and the "love pact" cottage became famous. E. J. McCarthy, of the girl, closed one chapter in the affair when he succeeded in forcing them to be married. For a time the geraniums bloomed in the window boxes at the bungalow, the weekly interviews were given out by Roth and everything was happy. Then father McCarthy stopped the allowance to his daughter.

Now there is a "for rent" sign on love pact cottage and one or both of the former tenants must go to work.

Insurance Agents
Pick New Secretary

Announcement of appointment of Willard Done executive secretary of the California Association of Insurance Agents was made today by Matt T. Mancha, president of the association. The appointment is effective at once. Done, who will make his headquarters in Los Angeles, is former insurance commissioner of Utah. In 1915 he again entered the agency field after spending a number of years as public manager for the board of fire underwriters in San Francisco.

CODFISH CATCH IN BERING SEA TO FALL FAR SHORT

The codfish catch brought into Oakland from Bering Sea and Southwestern Alaska stations will fall far short of last year's total, according to word arriving today by the schooner Beulah, which brought less than half of her regular catch.

According to accepted estimates the catch in the entire Bering Sea district for the season will be little more than one-third of that of last year.

The Beulah arrived with 75,000 codfish, which means that a season's work will count as loss to her owners and that the fishermen, instead of coming home with pockets bulging with money, are finding it easy to carry the weight of their summer wages.

On May 19 Oscar Aasmeyer, one of the fishermen, was drowned when his dory was swamped in a squall. The Beulah, with a crew of forty, left this port in April. She is owned by the Union Fish Company.

The Hands of a Master Play
the Duo-Art Piano

As if Paderewski himself were at the keys, the golden flood of melody pours from a DUO-ART Piano. And it is Paderewski's playing. Every note, every inflection of that marvelous reproduction was originally played into the DUO-ART by the master himself.

What a marvelous piano! First of all, it is a standard pianoforte—a Steinway, Weber, Wheelock, Steck or Stroud—an upright or a grand—to be played from the keyboard in the customary manner by hand.

Secondly, it has the uncanny ability to reproduce the playing of master pianists. Their art is recorded as definitely as if it were painted on canvas.

Lastly, the DUO-ART is the very highest type of Player instrument. Under your guidance, it will play any Player Roll just as you wish it played.

We cordially invite you to come in and hear the marvelous DUO-ART.
